. . Foreword . .

After experiencing one of the dryest years in our memory and having three cold spells before getting the dahlias dug, we feel that we have indeed scored a victory over vicissitudes, and have a good crop of roots on hand.

We take pleasure in presenting a new introduction this year; "Peggy's Pink." This dahlia was awarded the Certificate of Merit from the Oakland, California trial ground. It is one of the purest pink dahlias we have seen, and is most beautiful in an arrangement.

We again wish to thank our many customers for their past patronage, and trust that we can continue to serve you to the very best of our ability.

NELS JOHNSON

All roots are guaranteed to be true to name and in good growing condition. If not found so, return same and a replacement will be made or money refunded.

Visitors are welcome to our dahlia fields during the blooming season from mid-August until first frost. The farm is located one mile north of the Nooksack Valley high school, at the intersection of the High School and the Clearbrook roads.

. . Cultural Directions . .

Dahlias will do very well in almost any kind of soil with a little careful attention. Select a place that is reasonably sunny. A little shade during a part of the day is all right, but never plant dahlias in a plot that is underlaid with free roots. Dig a hole nearly a foot deep and into it put about half a shovel of well rotted manure or any complete fertilizer, and mix this thoroughly with the soil in the bottom of the hole, then put in enough top soil so the root will not come into direct contact with the fertilizer. Now you have a hole about six or eight inches deep. Now place your root and drive a strong stake near the sprout end of the dahlia root. By setting the stake now you will not injure the roots, which is likely by setting the stake after it is needed. Now cover the root with only about two or three inches of soil. This will allow the sun to warm better than if the hole were filled. After the plant has emerged, more soil can be hoed in as the plant grows.

. . PEGGY'S PINK . .

Semi-cactus, tall bush. Purest pink blooms with tips shading almost to white. Blooms are about seven inches and facing on strong but slender stems. This is our introduction for this year, and is indeed a real beauty, one of the purest pinks we have seen. It received a Certificate of Merit from the Oakland Trial Grounds scoring 85. You will be pleased with this one. See cut on front cover. Net$2.50
